"I cannot understand this Buffalo worv. We are satisfied that my sister died from heart discase. I was with her when she died. I sook her to Smith riss. Just outside of Buffalo for treatment. She was suffering from neurasthenia and heart trouble. She was very sick when we left Hoboken. She died on Saiurday and I brought the body home on Sunday. I do not know this Dr. Turver you speak of."

When told that the cause of death as given on the death certificate was childbirth Mrs. Flatow said that this was certainly a blunder—that a great mistake had been made.

Brother Admits it.

Brother Admits It.

Henry Pinner, the dead girl's brother, however, made no attempt at denial.

"My sister Edith was twenty-four years old," he said. "She was in trouble, and, with my married stater and the latter's husband, she went to surfalo to have an operation performed. She first went to Philadelphia, where her sister lives, and where she remained six weeks. This doctor in Buffalo was recommended.

"They brought her home Sunday, and we buried her yesterday. It is a very sad matter for all of us.
"The cause of death was given us as blood poisoning, following an operation for appendicitis. "She told us that she was married, but would never reveal the name of her husband. It's the old story."

Another Woman Missing.

The police said they found the clothing which the Knight woman wore to the hospital in the boody bedroom. Her trunk, which contained other clothing, was also in the room, but its contents had not been disturbed. On one end were the initials "E. W. K.," and under them "Philadelphia."

Just before the disturbance at the Turver house Tucaday avening a woman only party dressed is said to have jumped through a window and established. The police say they have been unable to get any trace of her and it is pussiling them to learn how she could have gone far from the hospital without more closes.
